After a long and torrid night shift at the hospital, the doctor called Tracy in for a discussion. She was too tired to pay much attention.

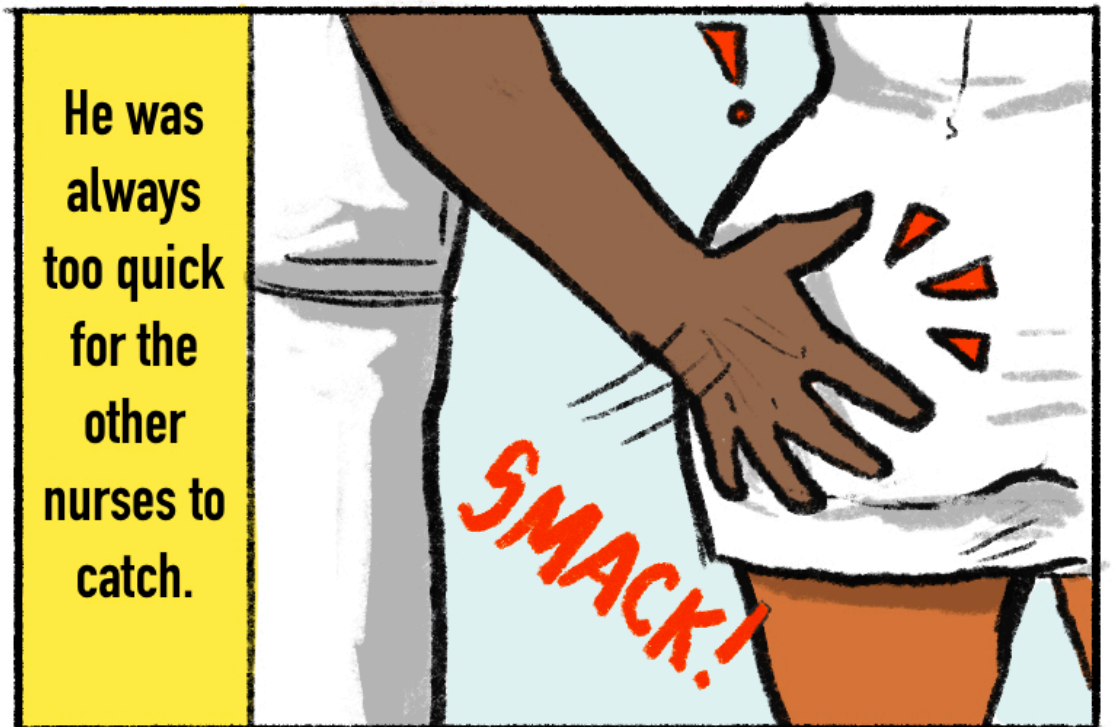

The next night shift she was busy and didn't realize until late into the night that she was being followed.

He introduced himself as Frank, her new mentee. He was a beautiful man, but they were so far apart in both a age and rank, she found it hard to make a move. She kept an open mind anyways.

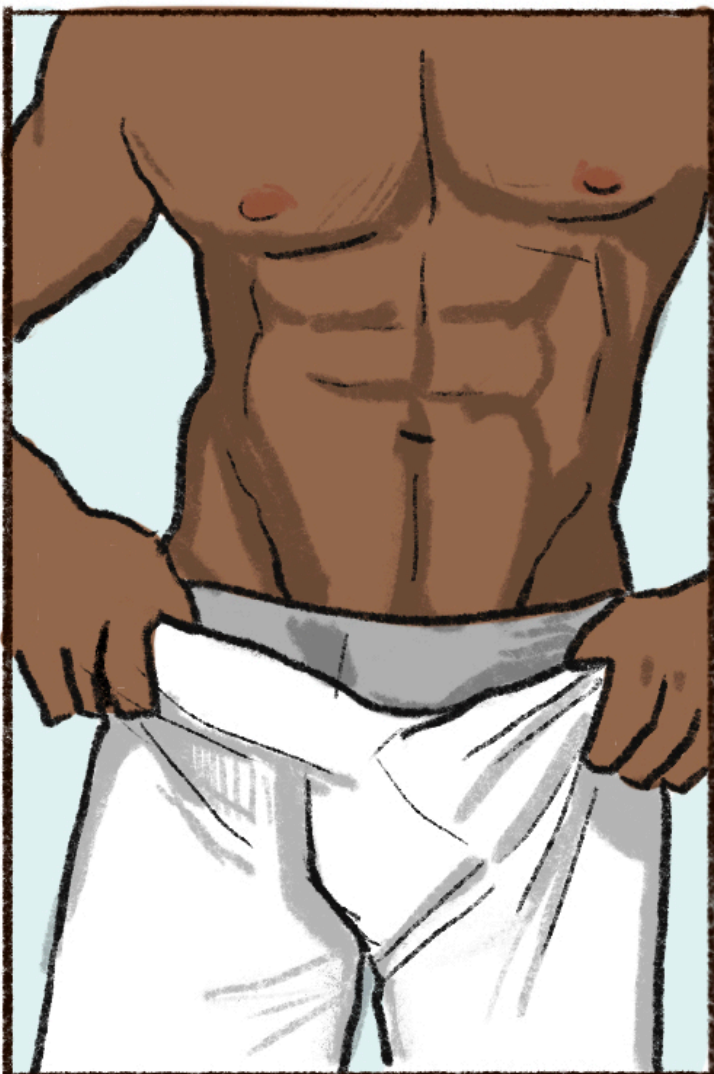

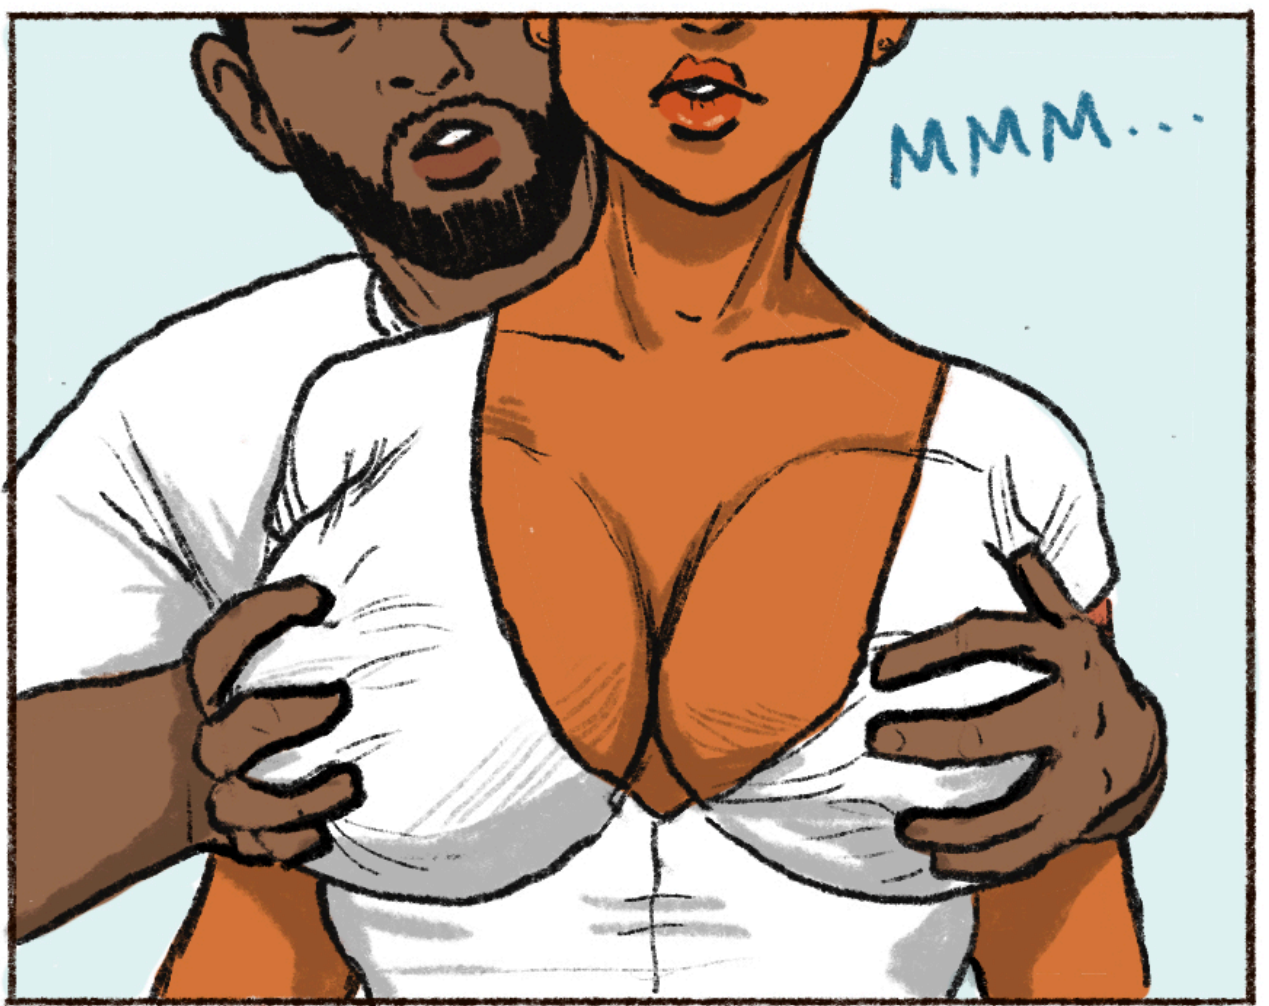

During the night shifts he began to make moves on her. He drove her crazy.

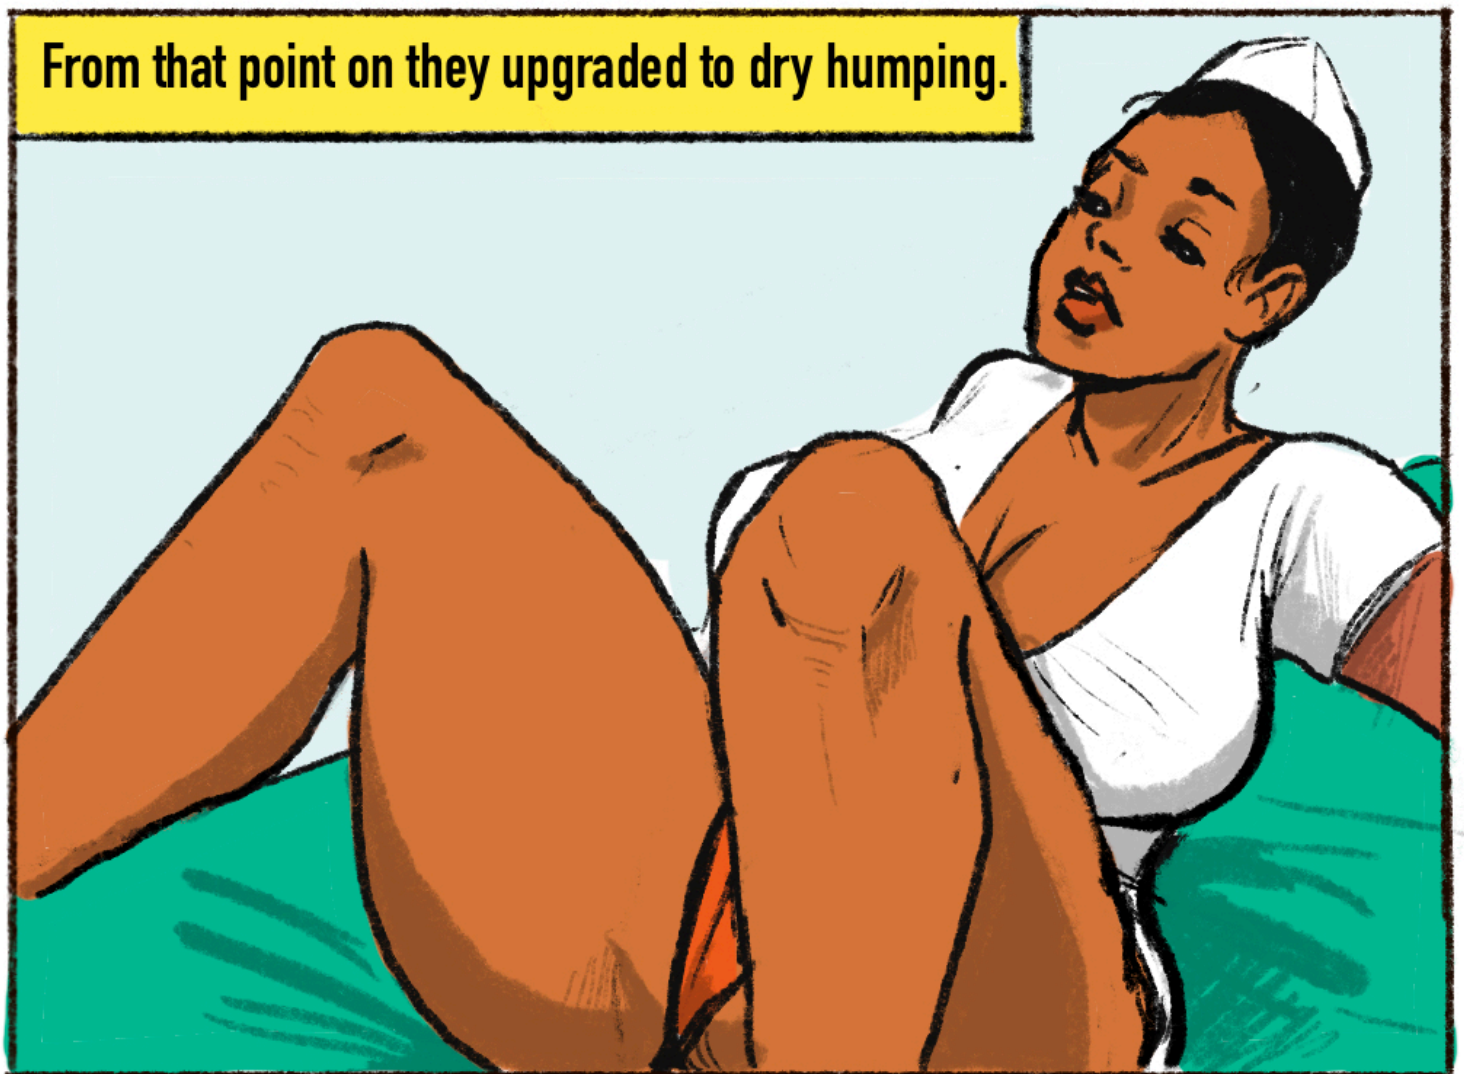

He was always too quick for the other nurses to catch.

One of those night shifts, she felt extra naughty and decided to play back.

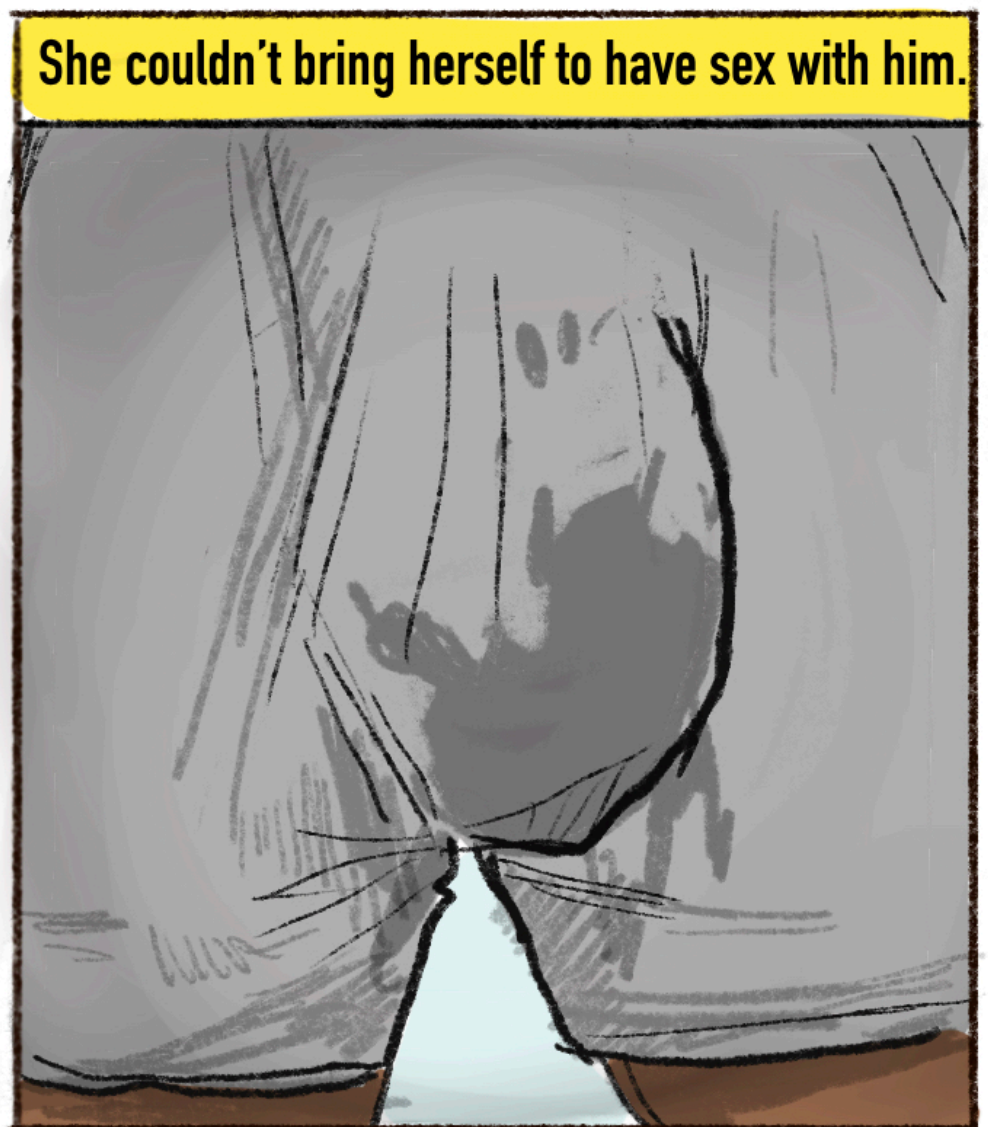

From that point on they upgraded to dry humping.

With her pussy hidden in her panty and his dick hidden in his briefs, she would ground her soggy pussy on his dick outline until they hit climax.

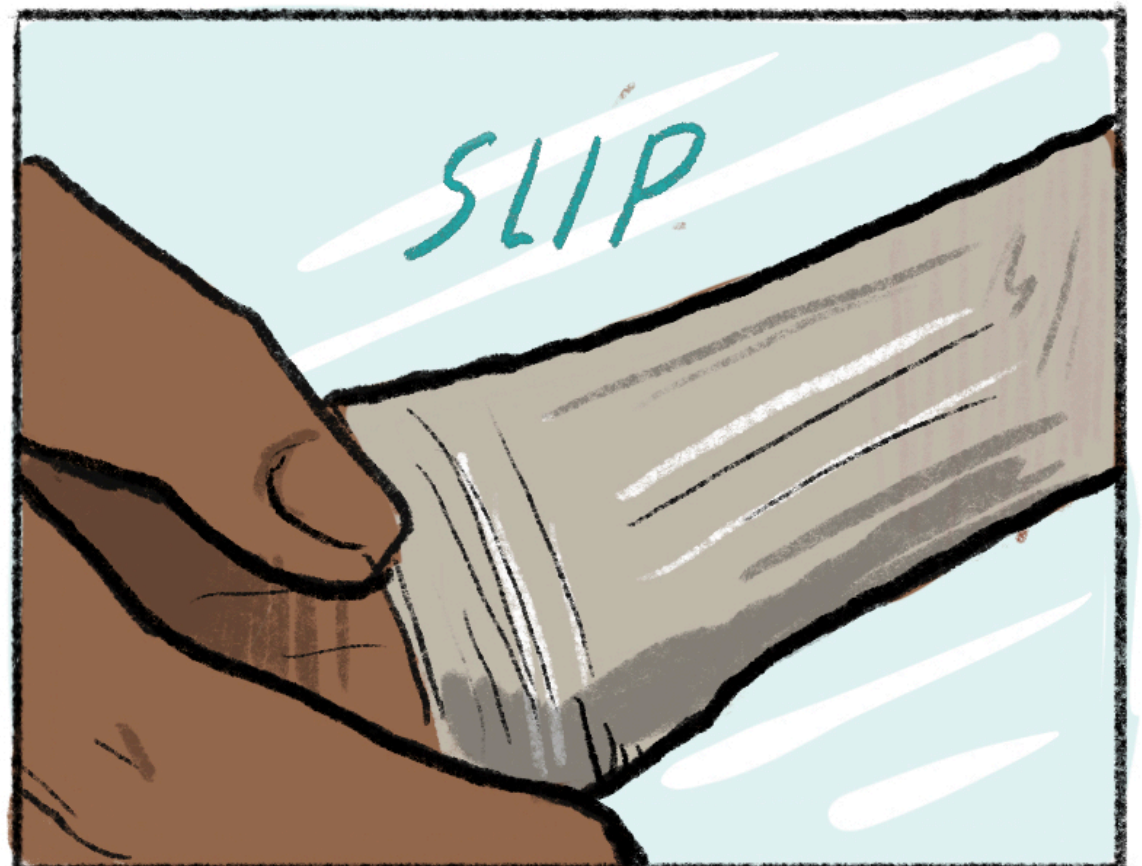

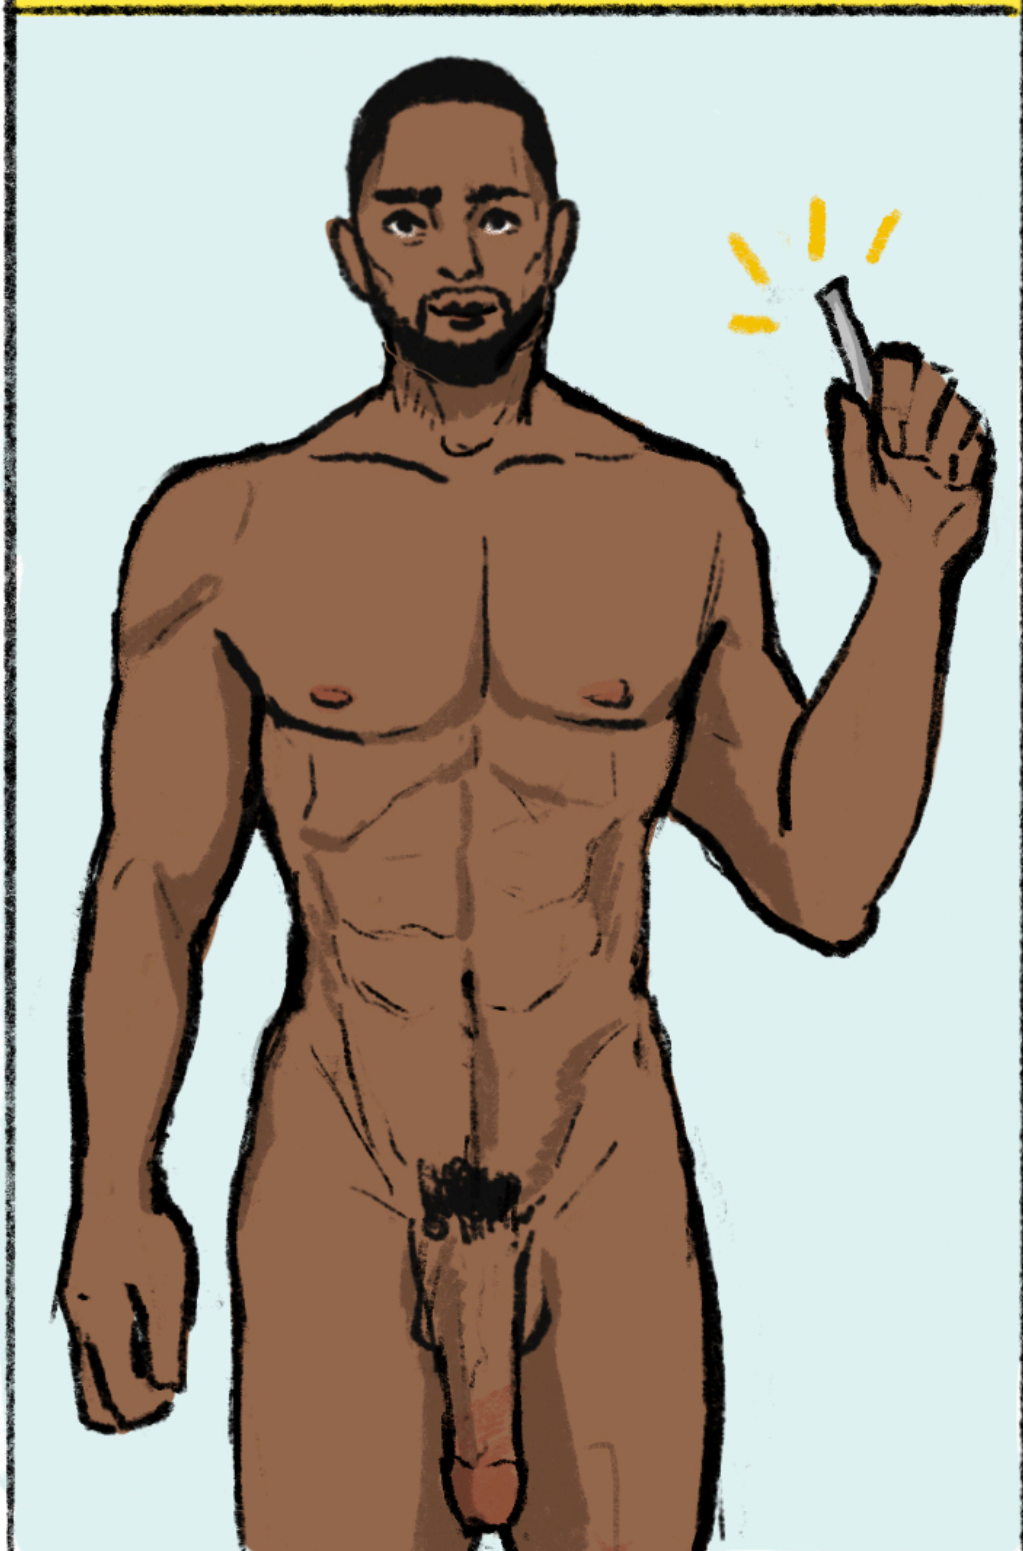

She couldn't bring herself to have sex with him.

She always dodged his attempts by saying she wouldn't do it without protection. Still, she compensated in other ways.

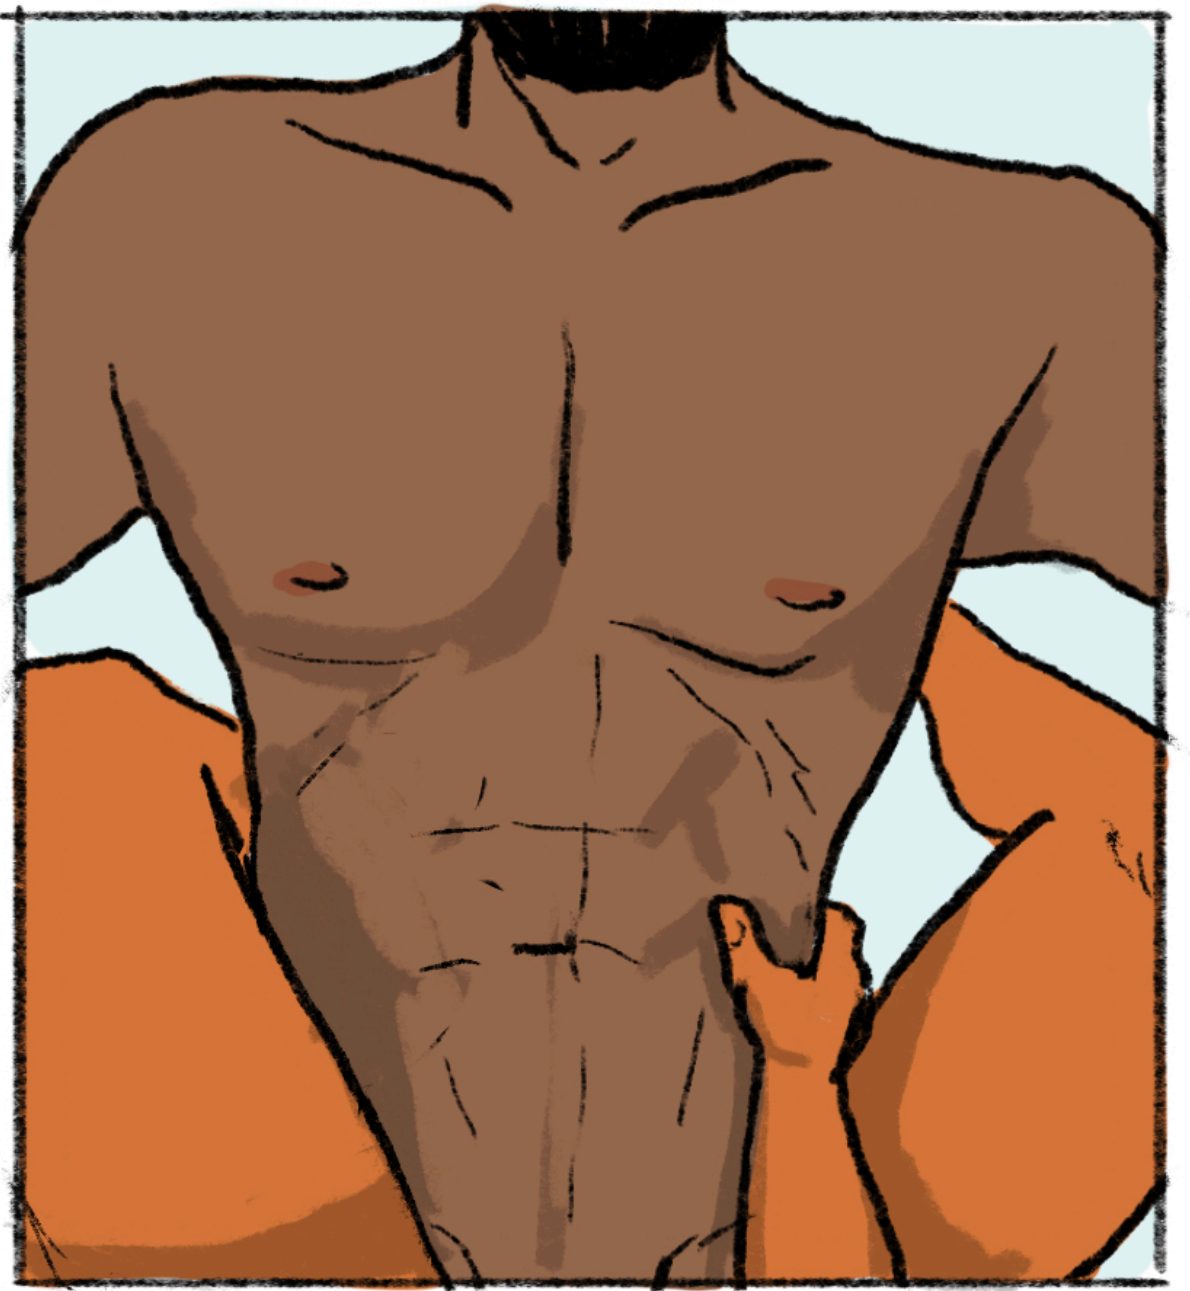

Frank took matters into his own hands one night. After Tracy had finished grinding on him and was putting her clothing in order, he pulled down his briefs. Before Tracy could make an excuse, he pulled out a condom.

Tracy had lost this fight. She shifted her already-wet panties to the side and helped his sheathed dick inside her pussy.

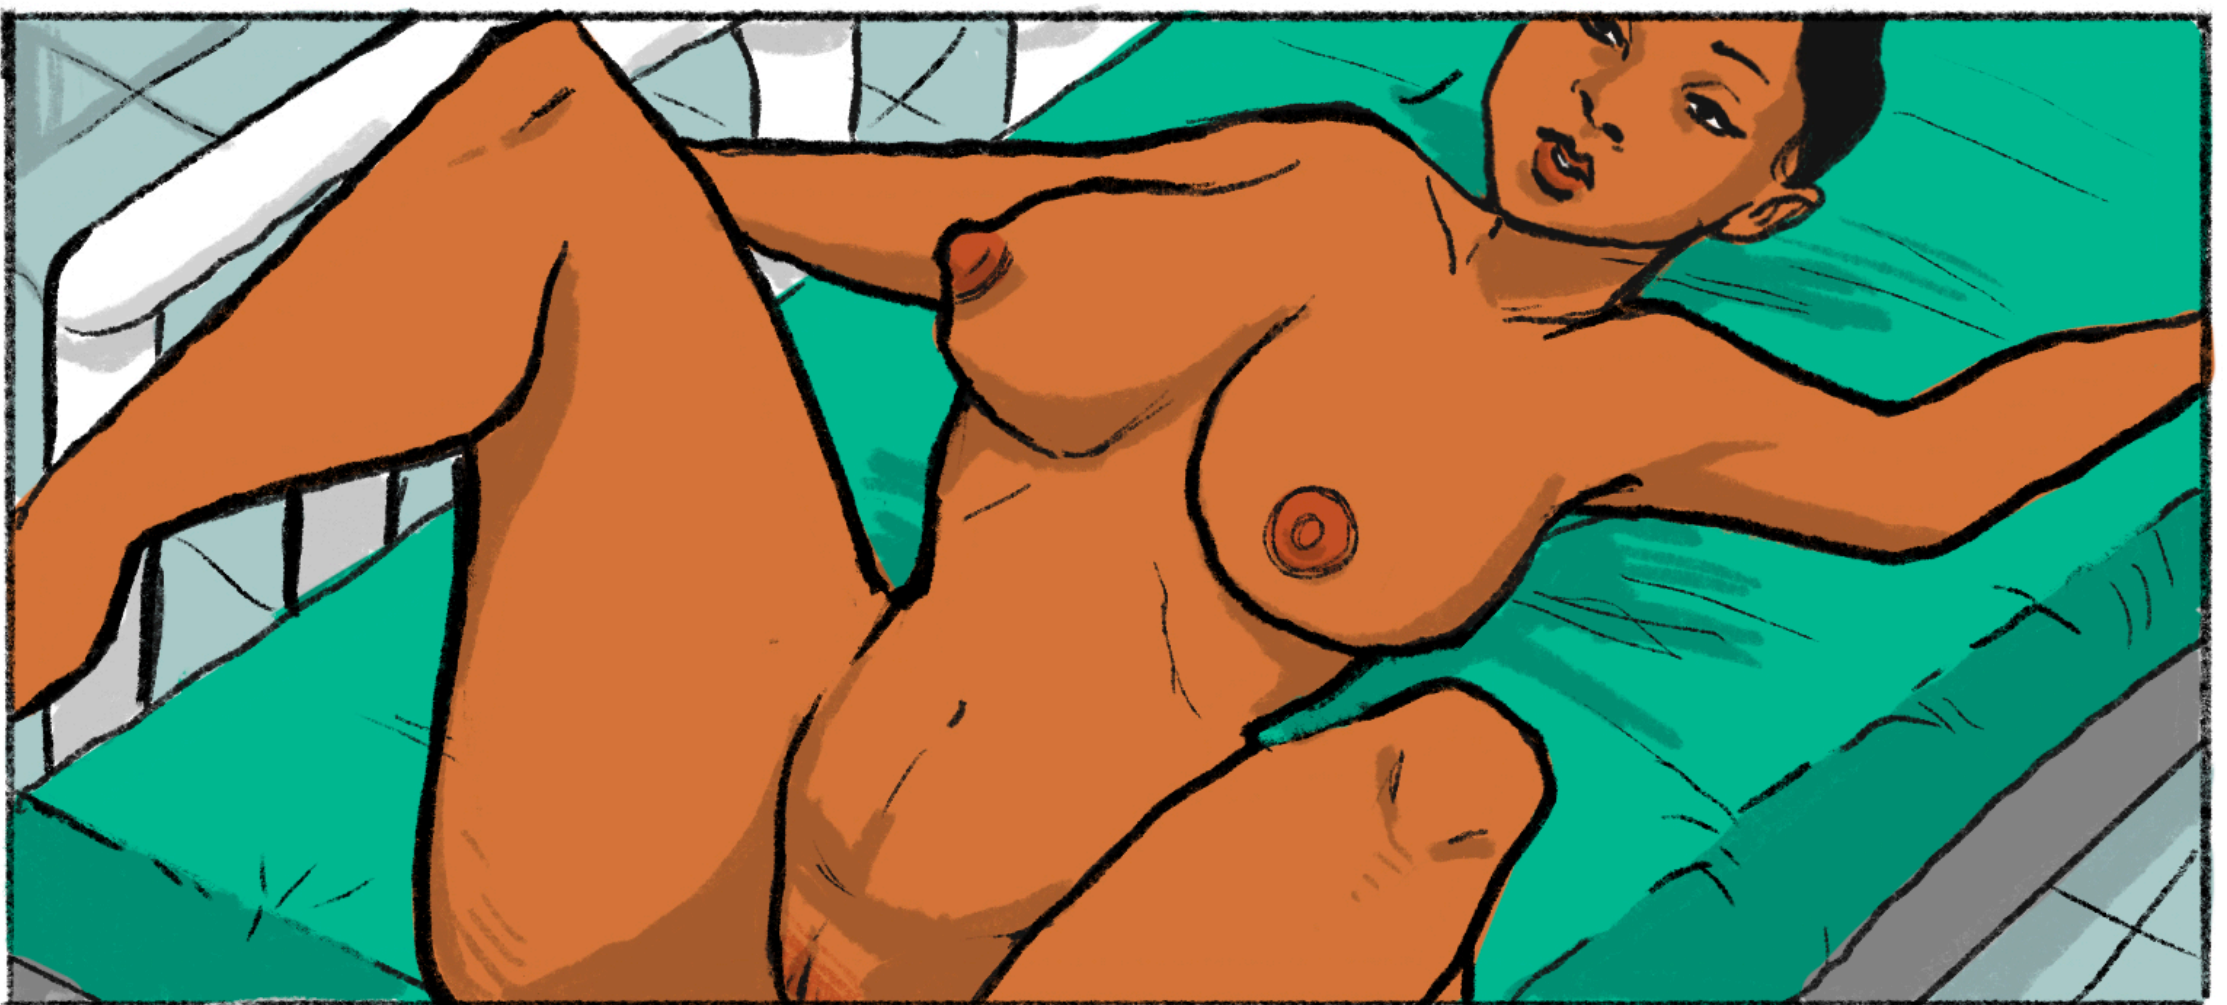

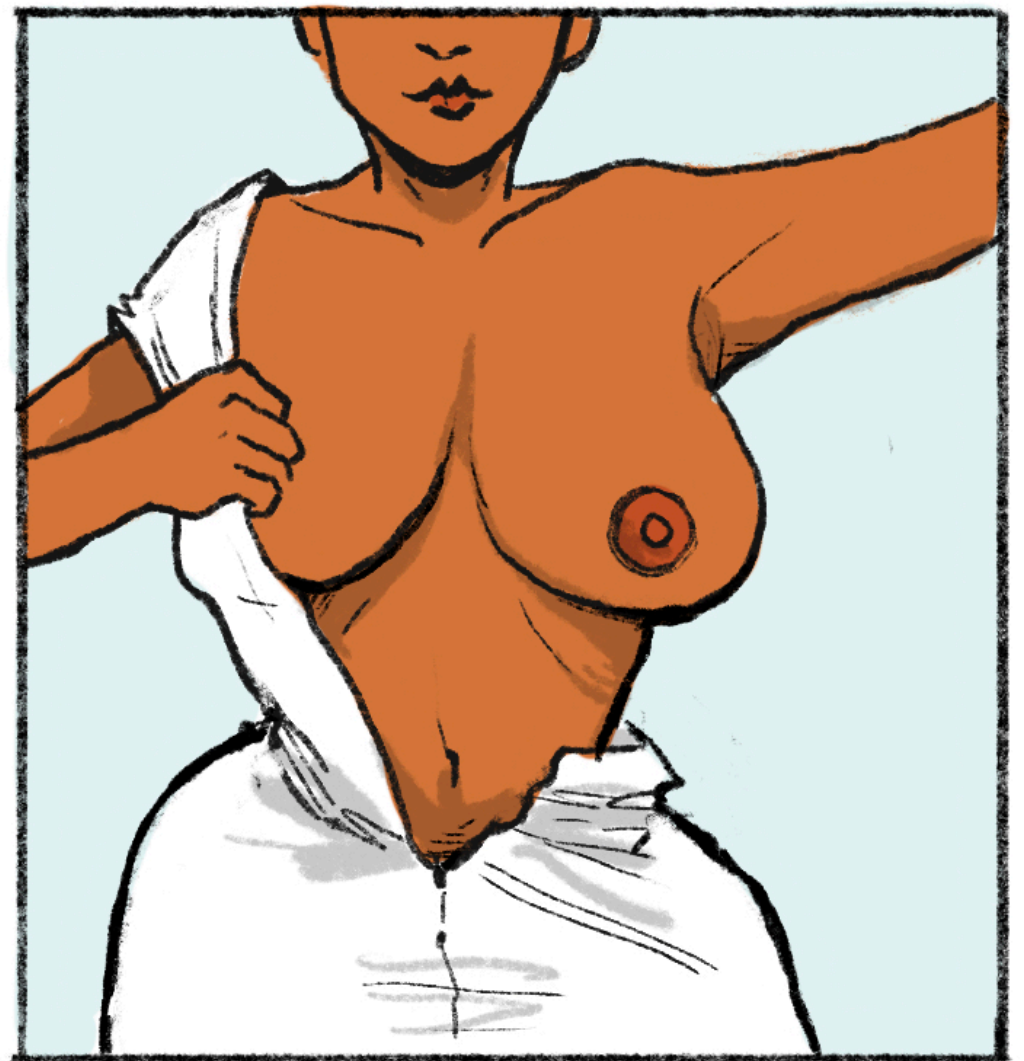

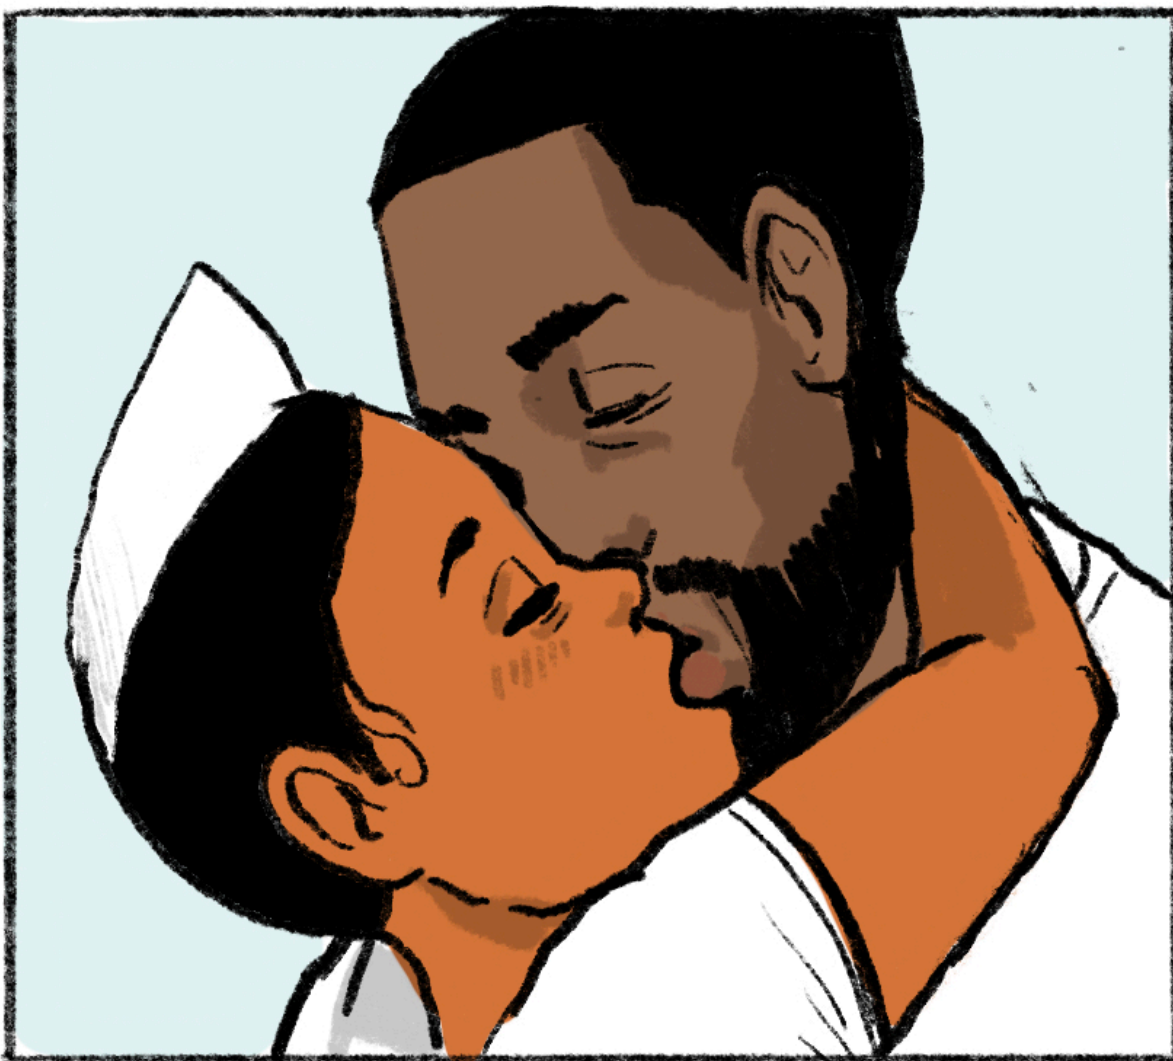

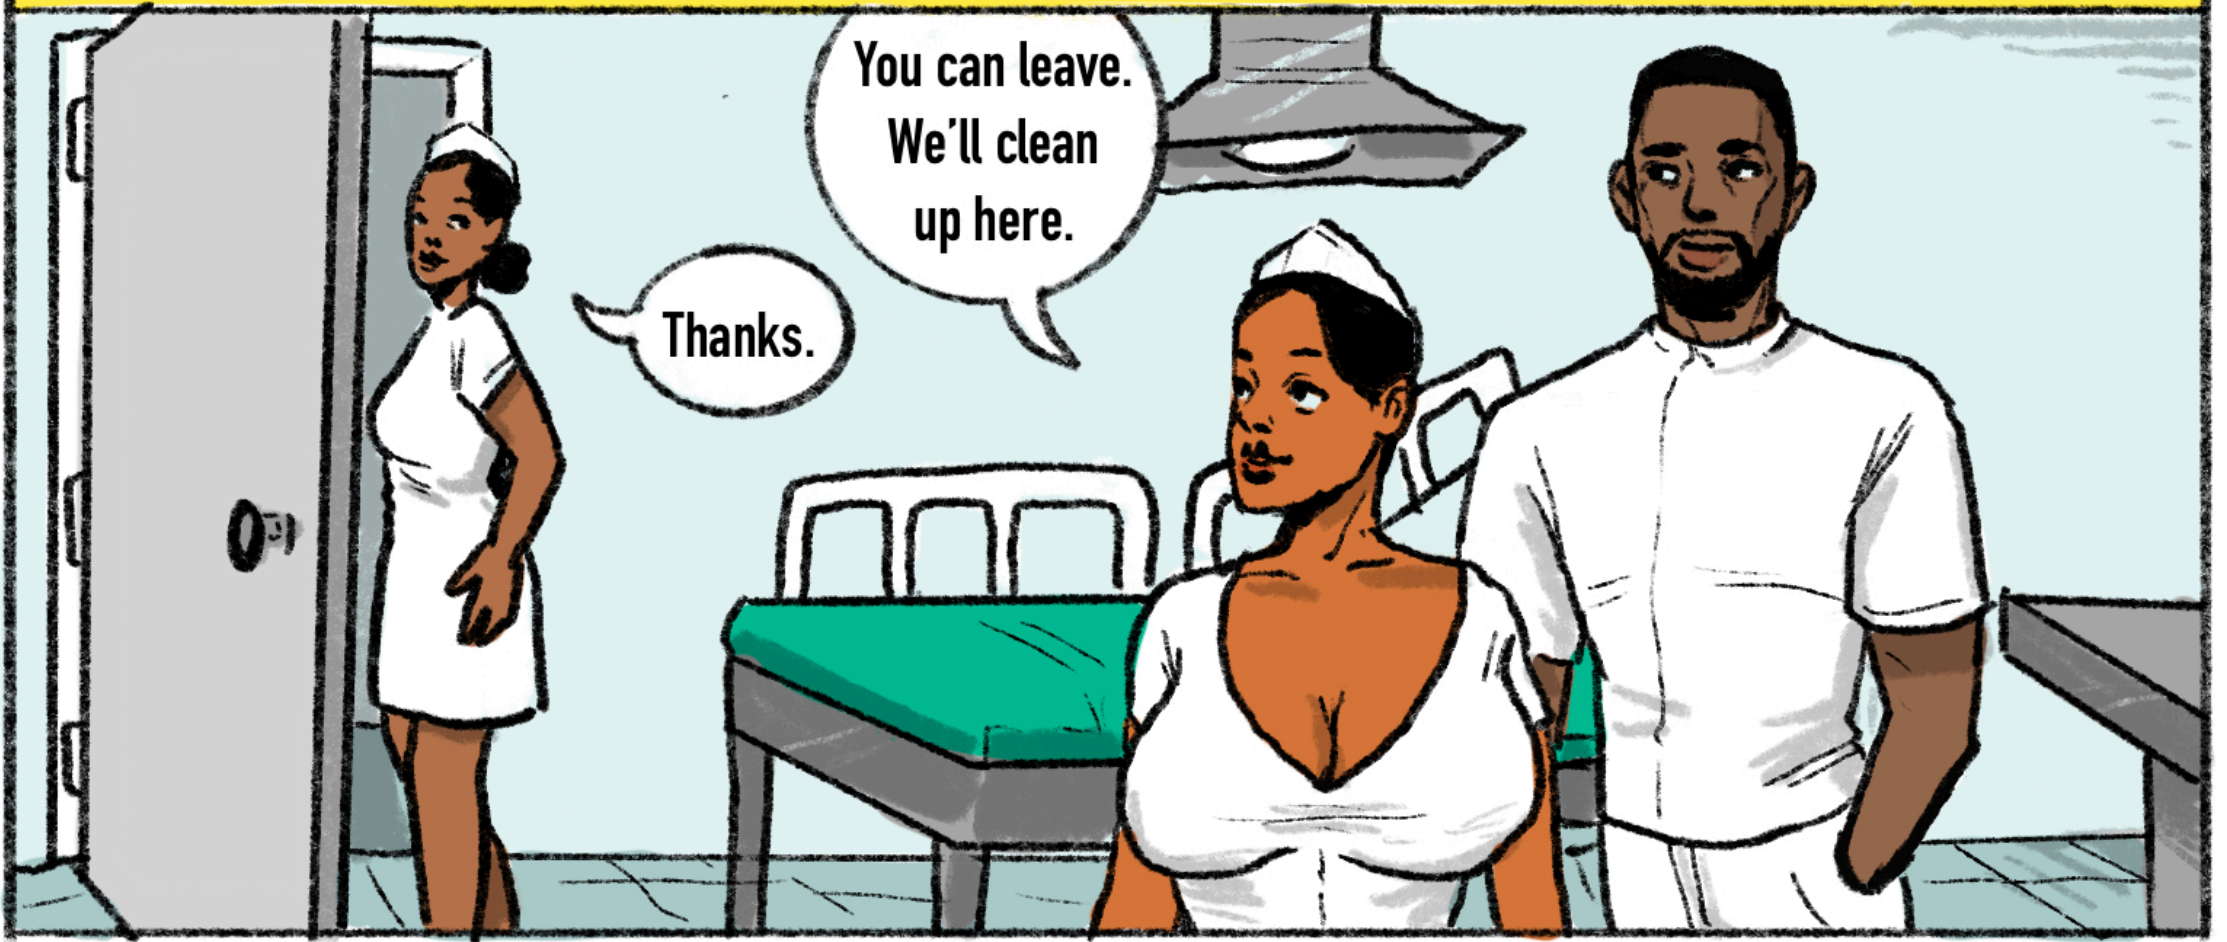

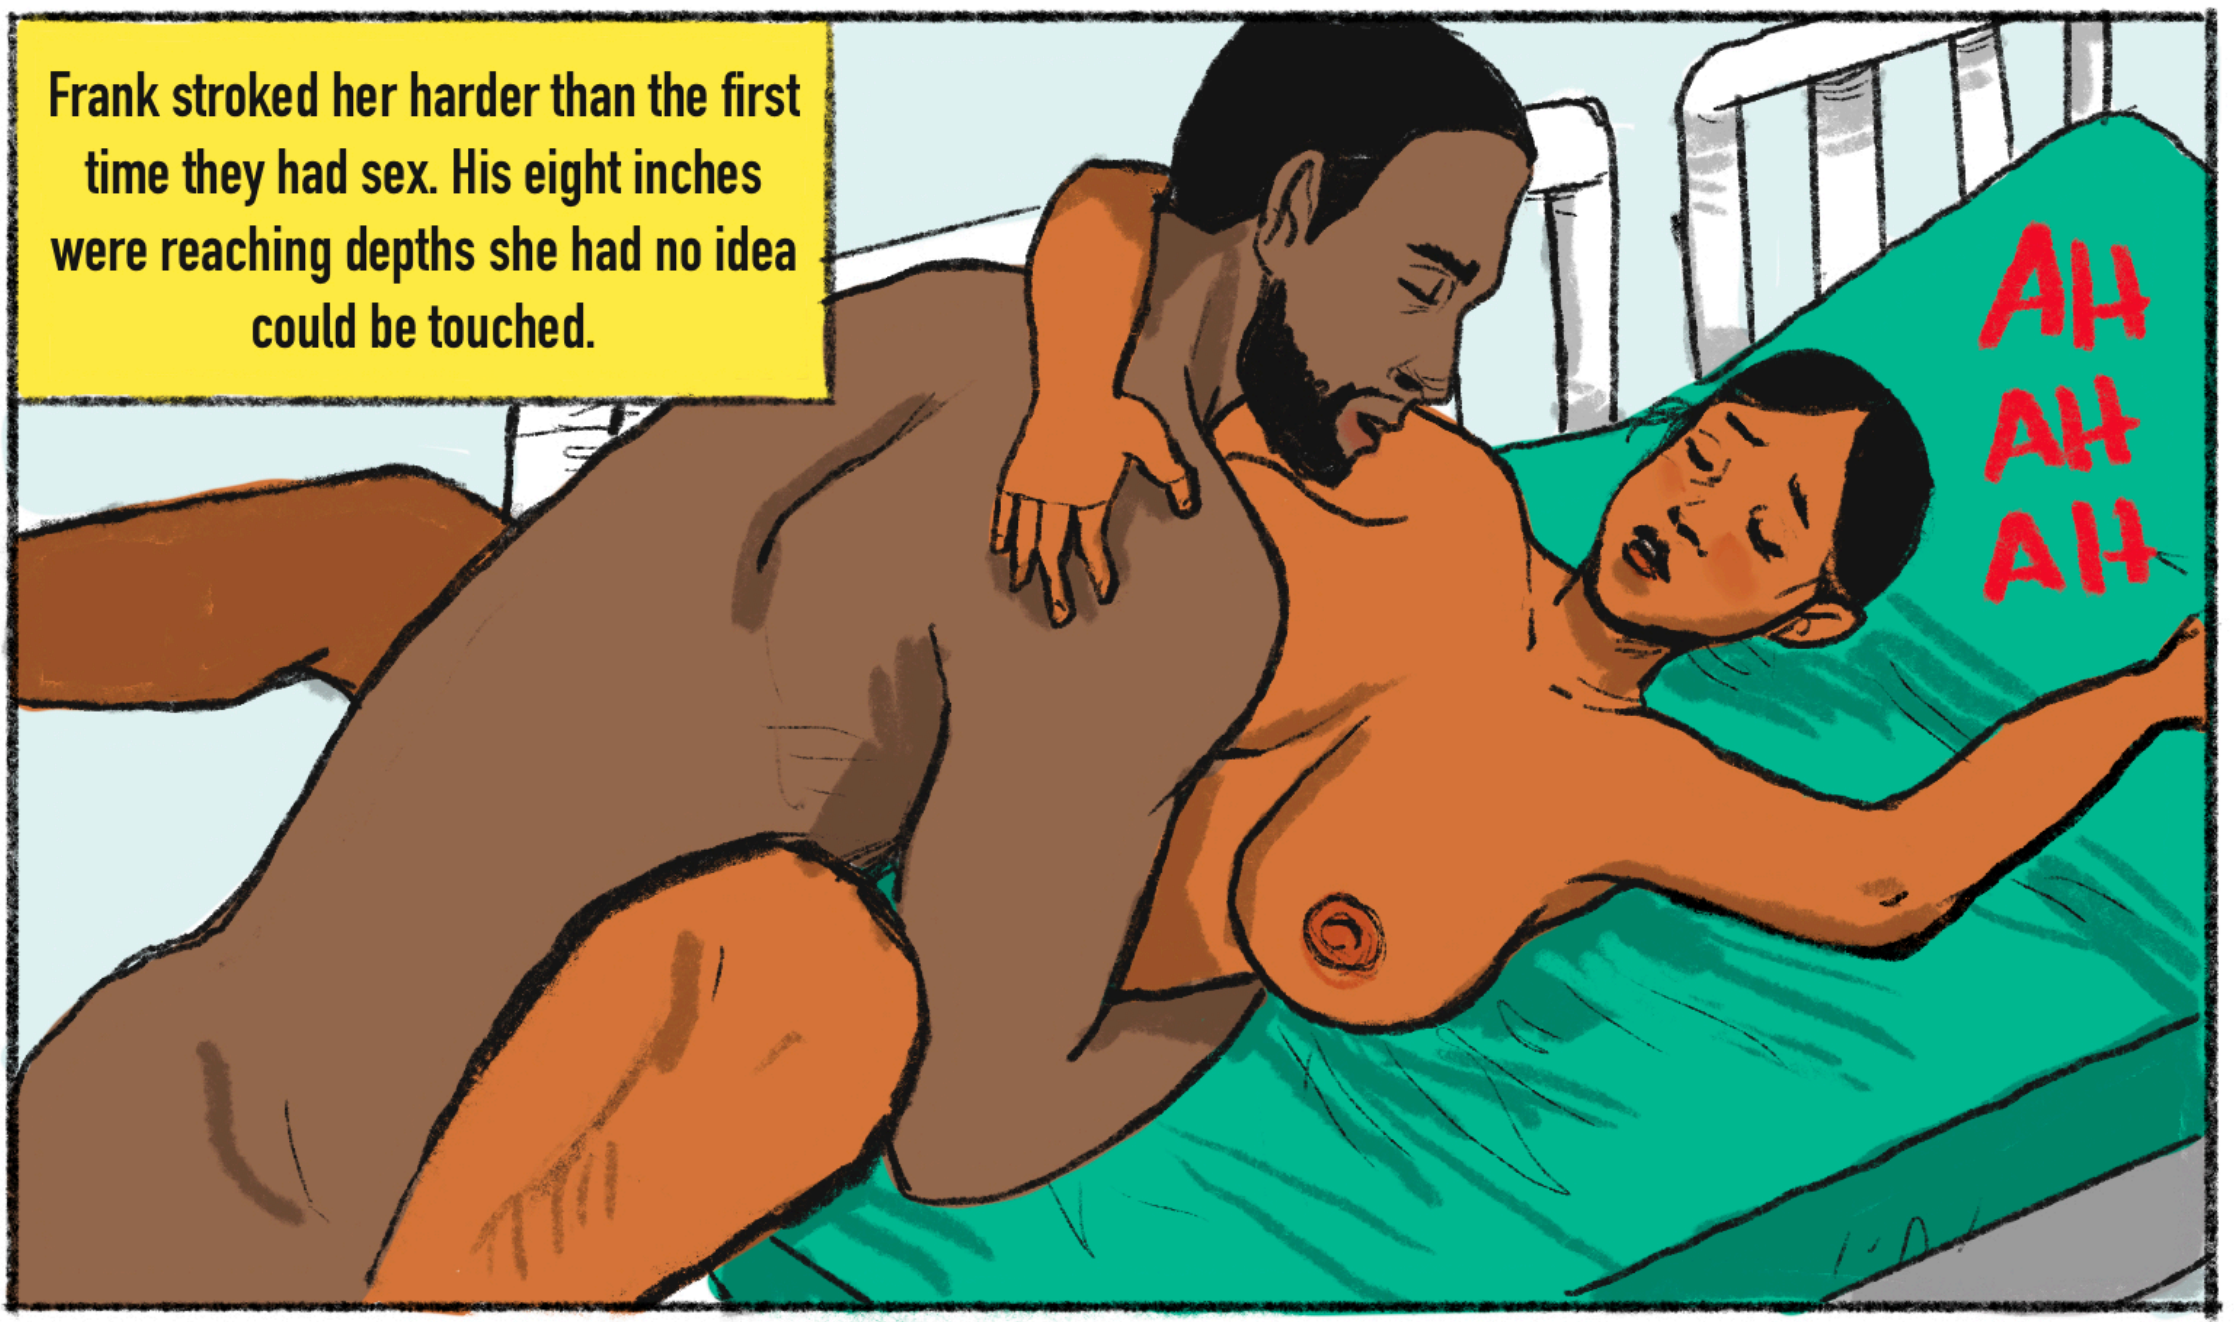

It felt like he was ripping her pussy apart and he was bringing out the real hoe in her. Her legs entwined on his ass, helping him to dig deeper into her pussy.

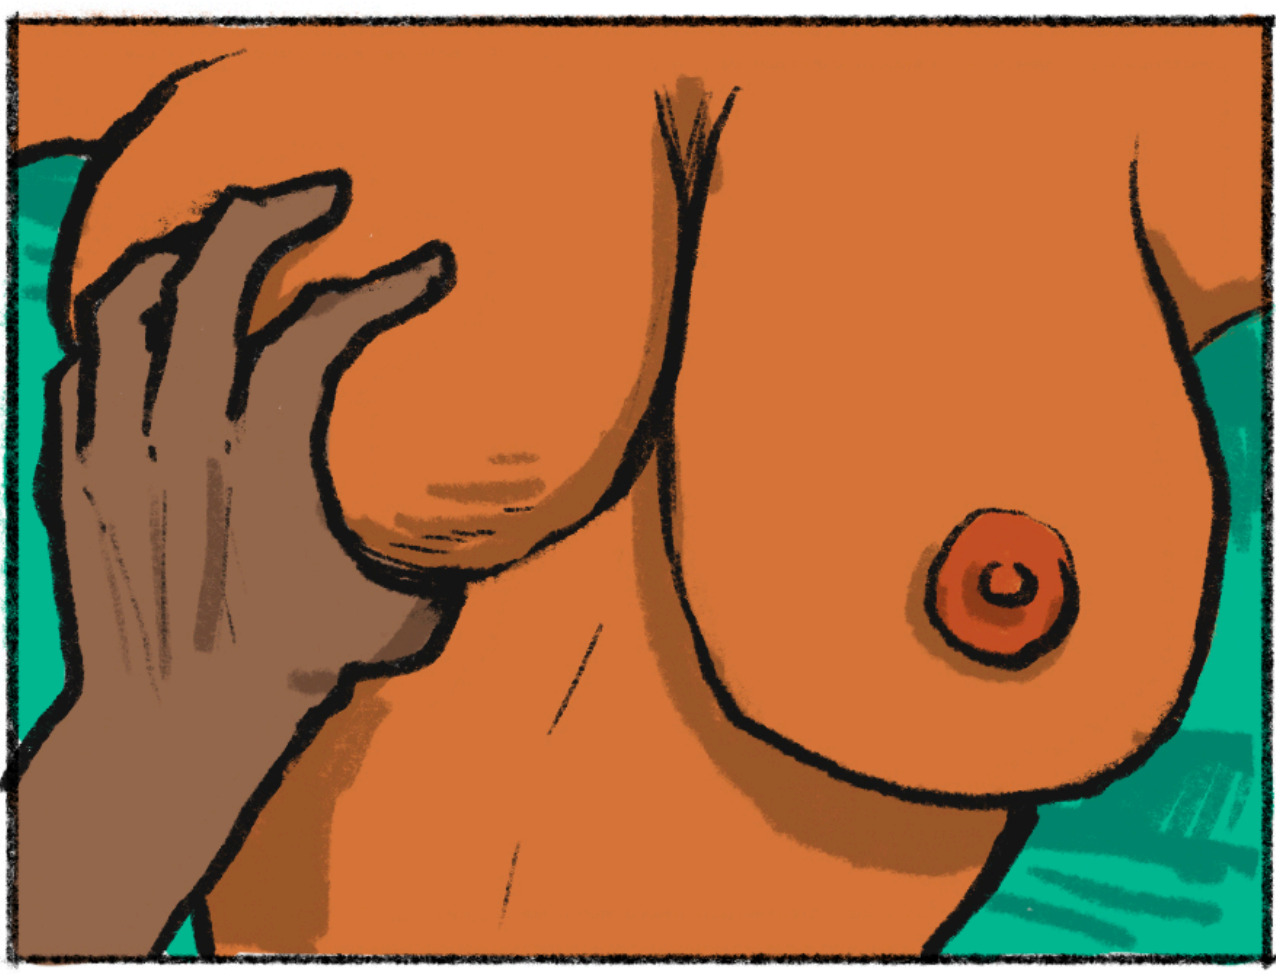

After that first time, opportunity to have sex again became scarce. Work kept denying them chances. But then a silver lining appeared, and even though it was a risky one, Tracy jumped at it.

Frank stroked her harder than the first time they had sex. His eight inches were reaching depths she had no idea could be touched.

After jets of cum sprayed her pussy walls they both crashed into the mattress.

The doctor was waiting at the door. They put their clothes on quickly and followed him to the office.

Frank was given a two week suspension on the spot. Tracy didn't bother sticking around. She knew she'd been fired.
